

Vanguard Line Card*

Vanguard Fire & Security Systems, Inc. creates great relationships with customers and with key manufacturers of fire and security products. In fact, some of our relationships go back 50 years. At the same time, Vanguard is constantly creating new manufacturer relationships as technology, codes, and customer needs change. With dedicated engineers and purchasing staff reviewing our suppliers, our goal is to cost-effectively provide customers with the best equipment to protect people, property, and products.

*This list represents many of our manufacturer relationships. We have many other suppliers not listed here.
